REASONABLE ADJUSTMENTS

British Skydiving is committed to making sure our Instructor Courses are accessible to all candidates. For example, by ensuring there is a designated quiet room on site or making reasonable adjustments, such as providing any test papers on coloured sheets. If you want to let us know of any particular needs you have, please send details to our Head of Safety, Training and Competitions (Jeff@britishskydiving.org). This information will be treated as confidential and used solely in relation to accommodating your needs while on the course. In some cases, it is helpful if the Course Director, relevant Examiners or host CI are made aware of your needs so that necessary measures can be actioned. So, please make sure that your email lets the Head of S,T&C know whether you give consent to share this information with these parties.
